Laura Hotten studied law at the University of East Anglia, Norwich, and graduated with an upper second class degree in 2012. Following her graduation, Laura took on the role of a Paralegal in the Private Client department of another regional firm, before being offered a two year training contract at the same firm, which was focused in Private Client Law. Laura completed her legal practice course at the University of Law, Bloomsbury, achieving a Distinction, alongside her training contract and qualified as a Solicitor in 2016. Laura remained at the same firm for a further five years developing her skills and expertise as a Private Client solicitor.

Laura joined Pinney Talfourd as a Private Client Associate in 2022. With over ten years' of experience specialising in Private Client matters, Laura is able to provide expert and clear legal advice to individuals, families and business owners on matters including the preparation of Wills, Lasting Powers of Attorney, Trusts and Inheritance Tax planning.

Laura also has a breadth of knowledge and expertise in the Administration of Estates. She regularly acts for executors of high value and complex estates and can also advise on Intestacy Administration (where no will was left by the deceased) and Deeds of Variation (where a beneficiary would prefer to re-direct their inheritance to another person, perhaps as part of their own Inheritance Tax planning).

Areas of Expertise

Wills

Notable Wills cases

Wills for a couple in a second marriage who wished to sever their joint tenancy of their property, so that they held their property as tenants in common instead, so that they could provide the surviving spouse with a Life Interest over the first spouse to die's property share, whilst providing in the wills that each spouse's property share would ultimately pass to their own children of their first marriages.

A Will for a testator who wished to leave a share of her estate on a Discretionary Trust to be managed by Trustees instead of passing directly to vulnerable/financially irresponsible children.
